Thank you for your easy-to-use, organized and fool-proof service. As the concessions director at our ballpark, finding bodies to volunteer in our stand couldn’t be simpler using SignUpGenius. I work 40+ hours at my day job and then set up and shut down the stand at the park. Time is precious. Thank you so very much for helping me get help AND, most importantly, support our neighborhood kids!

I’m a huge fan of SignUpGenius and have been able to accomplish so much with it.

I have loved SignUpGenius. It’s so easy to reach people, and I love that it’s email based and they don’t have to create an account or anything to use it. The admin tools are awesome — I can still make calls to the elderly and add their name in, which is so nice! In the last two and a half years, I have used it to organize four funeral luncheons, five sets of meals for new mothers, 11 sets of meals post-hospital visit and a few other situations like nursing home visits.

Our school started using this last year for parent teacher conferences. This has saved our teachers and parents so much time, and, best of all, it saves paper. The only way to sign up for parent teacher conferences.

SignUpGenius Helps Register More Than 500 Teachers for STEM Conference

Registering hundreds of participants for Cobb STEM’s annual STEMapalooza conference has been a breeze with SignUpGenius.

Membership and Marketing Director Ann Farran needed a simple system that could manage registration each summer, and she found immediate success with SignUpGenius’ easy-to-use interface.

“I’ve used SignUpGenius for years, and it is very user-friendly,” Farran says. “I’ve used it for all types of events, large and small, and it’s easy to edit and update as needed.”

The Atlanta area organization’s STEMapalooza conference gives more than 500 teachers the chance to learn about STEM leadership, resources and tools, allowing them to teach students about science, technology, engineering and math effectively.

One of Farran’s favorite features is the ability to download a CSV file with participant contact information or access the information easily online from her SignUpGenius account.

“Our teachers were able to quickly and easily sign up to attend the conference. They could see names of other teachers attending, which helped build excitement as the event approached,” Farran says. “We were also able to send updates about the conference via email, and it worked great!”

SignUpGenius is proud to help teachers equip students with the skills needed to succeed in a high-tech world. That’s genius!
The National Multiple Sclerosis Society usesSignUpGenius to coordinate 3,500 volunteers across 150 miles of trail to organize one of the largest cycling fundraisers in North America.

"You probably wouldn't guess that the National Multiple Sclerosis Society organizes one of the largest cycling fundraisers in North America."

The society, with a mission to raise money to research a cure for multiple sclerosis, has held the annual two-day bike ride BP MS 150 through Texas for 32 years. About 13,000 cyclists participate in the event annually, and most recently the event raised $20.3 million dollars for MS research.

Coordinating such a large event with thousands of volunteers across multiple locations in the state requires a lot of organization. Inefficient spreadsheets and an in-house system that didn’t let volunteers sign up for their preferred locations and shift times were among the problems.

"We were pulling our hair out trying to keep it all organized," says Melanie Zumdieck, a marketing engagement specialist for the society. Eager for a solution, the team turned toSignUpGenius to coordinate their 3,500 volunteers and 150 miles worth of trail.

"The successful use ofSignUpGenius for the BP MS 150 and the lift it brought to our volunteer engagement team has led us to incorporate the use of this tool for all events in our region going forward," Zumdieck says. "This includes over 28 Walk MS events, nine Bike MS events, as well as DIY and other volunteer events."

We are honored to be able to help the National Multiple Sclerosis society as they work toward curing MS. That’s genius!
The Dallas Cup Coordinates 3,000 Volunteers with Ease

International Youth Soccer Tournament Uses SignUpGenius

Coordinating 3,000 volunteers for the oldest international youth soccer tournament in the United States is no small feat. With 160,000 spectators coming to watch the games during the week between Palm Sunday and Easter each year, the tournament’s small staff rely on volunteers for almost every facet of the event.

That’s why organizers of the Dallas Cup turn to SignUpGenius for assistance. “With SignUpGenius, I can take my 25 committees, divide everyone up and fill all of the volunteer time slots,” says Dallas Cup Volunteer Coordinator, Jolyne Doyle. “It’s nice to put in all of the information that’s needed for one committee on a sign up and send out a different one for each committee. It lets me see when a sign up is full, and I can go into my SignUpGenius account and have all of the information in one spot.”

The Dallas Cup is a unique event to coordinate because 40 percent of teams are from other countries. Only 20 percent of the teams are local to the Dallas area. Organizers are not only coordinating the games and receptions, they’re also organizing places for many of the out-of-town attendees to stay.

Doyle said she’s received positive feedback from volunteers. One emailed her to say, “Just wanted to say I love, love, love the new SignUpGenius … it’s GENIUS!! Looks great and super easy! Whoever found this site is brilliant.”

Assisting groups like the Dallas Cup help their communities is why SignUpGenius exists. When families have more time to do things together, everybody wins.

Just wanted to say I love love love the new SignUpGenius...it’s GENIUS!! Looks great and super easy! Whoever found this site is brilliant.

It wasn’t always this easy. The Dallas Cup is more than 30 years old and, until recently, relied primarily on spreadsheets, bulk emails and shared online documents to coordinate the massive event. “(SignUpGenius) probably takes away a month’s worth of work for me,” Doyle says.
Employees Relax with In-Office “Getaways”

TripAdvisor, a leading travel website that offers trusted advice from real travelers, is considered a go-to site for those wanting to take a trip or getaway. The company is also known for offering employees special perks to reward them for their hard work.

By offering employees monthly chair massages, TripAdvisor offers another kind of “getaway” for those sitting at a desk all day. The company extends opportunities like the massages to help workers de-stress and unwind. Says TripAdvisor Benefits Specialist Shawn Rauhala, “TripAdvisor wants to have the best benefits to help attract and keep the best talent. So having chair massages is just one of the perks, among many, that we have for employees. Employees, it seems, are often rewarded with food and the chair massages are a relaxing, stress-relieving perk that is outside the norm. Not only do you not gain weight, but it is also healthy to relieve some stress that people often carry around as tension in their bodies!”

With close to 500 employees to inform about the opportunity, in addition to scheduling and managing the changes to the schedule, Rauhala notes it was far too difficult with an old-fashioned paper sign up sheet. “I took over organizing chair massages on a monthly basis back in October 2012,” shares Rauhala. “I had asked my Director if he knew of an electronic scheduling tool we could use to cut out the manual work. He had used SignUpGenius when his kid’s school had Parent/Teacher meetings, so he suggested I check it out. I did and it was EXACTLY what I was looking for. We have used it since.”

Rauhala has found that using SignUpGenius for his scheduling has offered more freedom, allowing employees to book the first come, first serve chair massages as soon as possible.

The online sign up saves him time by taking him out as the middle man. The system handles changes and cancellations for him. “This is an extremely popular activity. Once I send out the e-mail the two days of slots fill up in less than 10 minutes. If it weren’t for this site, I would have to have people manually sign up and then manage it from there,” says Rauhala. “I would have to maintain a waitlist in case someone cancels, which would then involve contacting the people on the list. By using the site, I pretty much just send the link out and everything with cancellations is handled within the site. Employees can then check on their own if slots open up without me being involved.”

Rauhala is impressed by how quickly he was able to get started with his first SignUpGenius sign up and also how easily he can create a new monthly sign up. “If there is one thing I can say about [SignUpGenius], it is really intuitive. I went on the site and got what I needed set up in no time without any instruction. The site has a lot of great features but I think the ‘copy sign up’ helps me the most. We have the massages once a month and being able to copy over the previous event and just change a couple small pieces is a big time saver for me.”

TripAdvisor plans to increase the days and times they offer chair massage perks to their employees, and they have found that SignUpGenius will allow them to do this without requiring the use of additional admin support in scheduling.
SignUpGenius Powers Leukemia and Lymphoma Society-IHOP National Pancake Day Partnership

The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society’s mid-Atlantic region partners with IHOP on National Pancake Day, using SignUpGenius to send volunteers into restaurants to solicit donations, raising more than $2 million over 12 years.

Free stacks of pancakes are a no-brainer to attract crowds, and The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society’s mid-Atlantic region takes full advantage of thousands of hungry stomachs, partnering with IHOP on National Pancake Day to raise more than $2 million over the past 12 years.

While pancake lovers dine, hundreds of volunteers fill shifts across 42 IHOP locations and ask patrons if they’d like to donate to the society by purchasing a special paper icon with a value between $1 and $20.

“This year’s event was a complete success — we significantly surpassed last year’s total. The success of the campaign largely centers around mobilizing a large volunteer base on National Pancake Day,” says Judy Irvine, campaign manager for retail partnerships with the LLS chapter. “Our volunteers are crucial as much of the funds from the campaign are raised on this day.”

Irvine likes that she can export her sign ups into Excel, giving her comprehensive spreadsheets in just a few clicks. “(They) enable us to see how many volunteers we have, where we have holes to fill, volunteer contact information and more.”

SignUpGenius powers the volunteer coordination process, aiding the scheduling of volunteers on National Pancake Day and training sessions beforehand.

Sign up templates also allow LLS to maintain consistent branding and look professional. Email notifications keep organizers up to speed about volunteer needs in real time.

“SignUpGenius is a fantastic option for groups, especially nonprofits such as LLS, who need affordable and effective ways to organize their volunteers,” Irvine says.
