

COVID-19 VACCINATION CONSENT FORM

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has issued an emergency use authorization (EUA) for a vaccine to prevent COVID-19. An emergency use authorization is not the same as full FDA approval of the vaccine, and that there is currently not enough scientific evidence available for the FDA to fully approve this or any other COVID-19 vaccine.

Like all medications, no vaccine is completely effective, and it takes a few weeks after the vaccine for the body to build up protection. Some people may still get COVID-19 despite having a vaccination, but this vaccine may lessen the severity of any infection.

The vaccine cannot give a person COVID-19 and receiving the complete vaccine and the recommended doses will reduce the chance of an individual becoming seriously ill or dying. A vaccinated individual will still need to follow CDC guidance to reduce the transmission of COVID-19, such as washing hands frequently, keeping social distance, and wearing a face mask when necessary. Like all medications, vaccines can cause side effects. Most of these are mild and short-term, and not everyone will experience them.
