

Panel Topic	Description
The real story of Manufacturing	Manufacturing is often shown as dirty, dangerous and boring. The reality is something entirely different. Our panelists will share the real story and why they find manufacturing exciting!
Robotics	Robotics are cool. DENSO is a leading manufacturer and user of robots. Learn more about the role robots play within DENSO and beyond.
Women in Manufacturing	Hear from women about their experiences in manufacturing.
Skilled Trades	Skilled trades play a critical role in manufacturing. Learn more about the career opportunities and experiences from those in these positions.
Continuing Education/Training	Hear from people who utilized our apprenticeship, tuition reimbursement, and/or our leadership training programs.
Industrial Engineering	It takes a lot of people to run a manufacturing facility. One of those roles is industrial engineering. Learn more about the many tasks that fall within this discipline and what is so cool about it.
Professionalism in the Real World (aka Adulting 101)/Soft Skills	Soft skills refer to a combination of skills like communication, self-motivation, teamwork and leadership abilities, which help individuals interact effectively with one another and establish a quality professional presence.
Safety, Health and Environment	The role of safety, health and environment is to keep people safe and ensure environmental protections . Hear more from people who are in this role.
Back to Manufacturing	Hear from people who left manufacturing at DENSO and then came back. They will share their personal experience and what they learned.
Unusual/Career pathways	Careers are no longer a straight path. Some people have taken some unusual routes to get to their current roles.
New to MFG-Recent Graduates	Hear from people with less than 3 years experience in manufacturing. What attracted them to it? What do they want others to know.