HELP! How to Develop Your Own Study Guide \(in Nursing School\) When Your Professor Says, "Know Everything!"

Zoom / Tamara Griffin

Monday, September 19, 2022 10:30-11 am
Monday, September 19, 2022 time TBD (early evening)
Monday, October 17, 2022 10:30-11 am
Monday, November 7, 2022 6:45-7:15p

This short workshop will help you learn how to break down a course and its curriculum so you can organize your studying for exams, and develop your own study guide when one isn't provided. We will also go over some strategies for determining what content is likely most beneficial to focus on. This workshop is specifically designed for first semester nursing students, and those taking any of the Health & Illness courses in the College of Nursing.

HELP! How to Break Down Content to Study for Your Health & Illness Exams: Tips & Resources

Zoom / Tamara Griffin

Wednesday, September 21, 2022 6-6:30 pm
Tuesday, September 27, 2022 6:00-6:30 pm
Tuesday, October 18, 2022 6:00-6:30 pm
Friday, November 11 2022 3:45-4:15 pm

This short workshop is focused on helping you study more effectively & efficiently for your Health & Illness classes. We will talk through some exemplars together and break down the material to help you learn how and what (generally) you should study for your Health & Illness exams. (please note - this is not a review session, and the content provided is not course-specific, but would cover applicable concepts and content for nurses.)

Monday, October 10, 2022 6:00-6:30 pm
Tuesday, November 7, 2022 6:00-6:30 pm

Learning and Studying in Nursing School is almost like learning a new language - new phrases, words, prefixes, suffixes you've never really used or thought about before... the list goes on. This short workshop provides a basic guide (and some great resources to put in your back pocket!) to some of the most common of these that you will come across in your Nursing School journey. Each session will also bring new words to the table to learn together. Exams are hard enough - let's take some of the difficulty out of it by getting a grip on the medical terminology!
